Who is NACCED?

The National Association for County Community and Economic Development (NACCED) is the premier organization empowering local governments to create thriving and sustainable communities.

NACCED builds generational capacity by providing education, resources, advocacy and peer support that strengthens local governments' ability to create sustainable communities and equitable economies, with safe and affordable housing.

What our Members are saying:

"NACCED's membership is invaluable in terms of understanding the needs and issues of county community and economic development agencies. There is no other organization that understands county needs."

Shawna LaRue Moraille, ICF

"NACCED is an 'all are welcome' type association. Having this level of participation in the association allows my company to develop lasting relationships within the industry. In our short 4 years with the association, we have grown our sales to NACCED members by nearly 500%!"

Martin Greenlee, Neighborly Software
